High Gale Damages Property, Delays Traffic

Stiffest Windstorm in History Sweeps California

The high winds of Wednesday night and Thursday loosened about everything that wasn't securely anchored or galled down in the vicinity of the east bay cities.

Many motor vehicles lost their tops and one automobile at 23d and Macdonald was picked up by the wind and smashed against the curb.

The Richmond-Albany auto buses laid off during the forenoon yesterday, being unable to buck the head wind which swept San Pablo avenue in tornado style.

Both Richmond and Albany fire departments were out, the latter fighting a grass fire at Evelyn and Main which threatened the southern portion of the city.

The fire department at No. 2 was called to Second and Macdonald to raise a tottering windmill which threatened to collapse any moment.

The tank of the windmill was empty, the water service being out of commission for a number of years.

The firemen finally lassoed the swinging tank and pulled the structure over into a vacant lot, wrecking the old eyecore and affording a realistic movie for the hundred onlookers.

Fences and signs were torn from their moorings, telephonic poles and wires were disheveled and portable furniture removed by the zephyrs from what was thought secure places.

But strange to relate, the "ornamental" billboards are still with us and weathered the storm victoriously, due to the hardened dokey which held the uprights fast to mother earth.

Albany to Organize an American Legion Post

Although one of the smaller communities of the state, Albany had a wonderful war record and there are enough former service men in the town to organize quite a post of the American Legion. S. C. Houston who served in the world's war, is the organizer, and is getting in touch with prospective members.

Streeter Fire at Third and Macdonald Is Mystery

Cause of the fire at Third and Macdonald Sunday morning, which destroyed the stock and badly damaged the building of C. L. Streeter, the second hand furniture dealer, has not been ascertained, different theories being advanced. The most logical one is that the fire started from combustion. About 200 mattresses were stored in the rear of the store, and as the fire started there, it is assumed that combustion was the cause.

The loss to Mr. Streeter is approximately $4000, with no insurance. L. H. Schrader, brother-in-law of Streeter, is owner of the building, which was badly wrecked, the fire eating out the entire roof of the old frame shack, which was one of the pioneer structures of Richmond.

No 2.75 Beer For the Present, "But Soon"

The Supreme Court at Washington adjourned Monday without rendering a decision on 2.75 beer or on the wartime constitutionality of the prohibitory law. St. Louis brewers are reported as taking this as a tip that the ban would eventually be removed, and 2.75 was sold at all the saloons in the city following a "general celebration."

Poppy Seeds From Flanders Field

Mrs. C. A. Tusch of Berkeley, founder of the university mothers' club, has received a consignment of poppy seed from France. The seeds will be distributed to mothers whose sons have made the supreme sacrifice and will be planted in many east bay city gardens.

Samuel Klinefelter, former Richmond boy who served his country with the famous Rainbow division, and who fought in many of the hard battles over there, returned from Los Angeles yesterday where he went in search of health and to visit a sister, whom he had not seen for a number of years.

Sammy left yesterday afternoon on the steamer Queen for Seattle, his future home. The best wishes of his Richmond friends go with him.

Charles M. Belshaw

Charles M. Belshaw's tragic death Sunday removed from this world's activities one of California's most prominent men. He was exceptionally well informed, educated, a vigorous and clear thinker, and one of his most prominent characteristics was courage equal to his convictions. His standard of honesty was surpassed by no man of his time. As a friend he was one of the most loyal of men, both politically and socially. —Martinez Gazette.

INVERSE RATIO

"A college graduate wants a job." "We have a place open that he might fill," replied the self-made man. "How many degrees has he?"

"Three." "We pay in inverse ratio to the quantity of sheepskin an applicant carries. Start him at $15 a week." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Chance For "Water Bugs" to Wise Up on Hetch Hetchy

O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco has been invited by several civic clubs of Berkeley to give his illustrated lecture on Hetch Hetchy at the high school auditorium in the college city on Tuesday evening, Dec. 2. O'Shaughnessy has accepted the invitation. He is a gifted public speaker and with the aid of his moving pictures of the Hetch Hetchy project's wonderful developments, will give the people of the east bay cities a rare treat.

Traveling in a "Palace on Wheels"

A. M. Neal, formerly a hotel man of San Diego, accompanied by his wife, are touring the Pacific coast states in a specially devised motor truck, which for ingenuity and convenience reflects considerable credit upon Mr. Neal, who conceived the idea of making a modern home out of a vehicle.

The body has a complete electric lighting system—gas, stoves, running water, full sized double bed, writing desk, bath, clothes closet, dresser, table, lavatory, fireless cooker, sink, storage and provision tanks and lockers that are built on the outside of the house. Everything is very compact, and so carefully planned, and arranged, that there is not a single inch of lost space.

HAWK COMPETED WITH PLANE

Bird's Jealousy Seemed to Be Aroused When Aviator Went Through Air Stunts

Are birds of the air jealous of airplanes, a question mooted among naturalists, has been answered in the affirmative to hundreds of Catalans who witnessed the antics of a monster hawk that attempted to outdo the stunts of an aviator here.

The human flyer had circled over the town nearly fifteen minutes, when suddenly a pair of hawks appeared at a great height close to the aviator and apparently, according to their position, intently watching the latter's evolutions. Then one of the birds made a dive toward the earth and in the sight of a great crowd of people who were viewing the flyer's maneuvers executed a series that soon turned the attention of the spectators from the aviator to the hawk, which did the spiral glide, the loop-the-loop, the dip of death and many other feats.

The hawk kept up its performance as long as the aviator was in sight, and when the latter flew away the bird rejoined its mate and disappeared amid the applause of the crowd. —New York Evening Sun.

THE OLD GARDENER SAYS:

If you are fond of peonies and want handsome blossoms for house decoration, do not wait until the flowers have opened. Out them in the bud. They will last longer and have a better color than if they are allowed to unfold out of doors. Peony blossoms, especially those of delicate shades, fade quickly under the rays of the hot sun. These flowers keep surprisingly well when cut in the bud. Florists sometimes store them on ice for several months. After the flowering season is over, give your peony plants an abundance of water. Don't be surprised if the plants that bloom for the first time this year have flowers different from what you expected. They seldom produce typical flowers the first season.

TAXED IS RIGHT.

Mrs. Tobasco—I presume that your husband's income is taxed, too. Mrs. Spendum—Oh, dear, yes; to its utmost.

RANDOM COMMENT

I CAN MISS 'EM.

Files don't bother me if I keep moving. Which really doesn't matter says a proving. That files and other things tormenting. Come simply through our own consenting. Nov. 1919. —Chas. Thayer.

Since prohibition has been in effect, the demand for confectionery grows by leaps and bounds. Alcoholic stimulants injured the human "crownhead"—candy is now increasing dentists' bills.

Richmond, E. C. Cerreto and Albany housewives followed the organized plan of their Berkeley sisters and permitted Mr. Thanksgiving Turkey to roost on his high pedestal "ad lib," and he will continue to roost there until the inevitable law of supply and demand brings him down to earth.

Wages have doubled, materials have doubled, taxes have doubled, and about everything that enters into the cost of living has doubled, and is still climbing—but the boss's net remainder, his "salary"—after all bills are paid, is about on par with the wages he received when he was an apprentice.

And now we have another editor who takes a chance against the laws of gravity and soars upward and outward and back again, not with his pen and an "inspiration," but who actually went up in the sky with an aviator. Editor W. A. Rugg of Martinez is the second newspaper man of the up-county opinion moulders, to "go up." He reports a fine experience, and recommends others to follow his example. Rugg denies that he did the stunt for advertising purposes.

Berkeley, always ahead in the assortment of burglars, now has an "invisible" one.

"The strike which produces the greatest good to mankind is the one which hits a hot piece of iron, the head of a nail, or otherwise aids in the work of production," says a well fed writer who receives his beefsteak from the anatomy of animal distant far from the latter's horns. Good philosophy. And we might add to the above: "When the striker of the nail and the hot iron is well fed, paid in dollars which have a purchasing power sufficient to secure grub for his Sunday dinner without hypothecating his entire week's wage, will also produce much good to mankind."

"What you need is more exercise." "More exercise, Doctor! Why, man, I still take 102 strokes every time I play a round of golf." —Detroit Free Press.

Passing of One of the Old Settlers

The death of Patricio Castro, aged 77 at the ranch on San Pablo Creek, Monday night, marks the passing of one of the old pioneers, a man who 49 years ago established a home there and who has resided there ever since.

The Castro family was known far and wide in Central California. Patricio's father was at one time the owner of Mare Island, and finally sold it to the government for $800. He also owned the famous Sobrante rancho.

Estate Ordered Distributed

By order of Judge R. H. Latimer of the Superior Court, the estate of the late Sarah E. Lucas was ordered distributed. The application was made by Attorney H. J. Wildgrave, who represented the administrator, John P. Lucas.

Bass in the Sea

Z. L. Bass, representative of the well known paper houses of San Francisco, is not satisfied with doing business exclusively on earth; at least, he does not travel exclusively on terra firma.

Saturday he flew across Contra Costa county in an airplane, and tossed down his card to us from the ethereal blue, announcing that he would come to earth soon and take our order.

Usually Bass shows up in Richmond in a Buick, but this is an age of surprises along progressive lines.

Bass may eventually adopt the submarine as a mode of travel. His name is certainly suggestive of the adaptability of such an act. But then, you "Z." Bass may not like water. It would be safer to consult him about that.

Oil Company Protests Tax Bill

Oh, Where Did You Get That HAT?

Old hats made like new, reblocked and reshaped and cleaned and spruced up by a real cleaner, a man who knows the use of chemicals that clean. All I ask is a trial. Bring in your old "hats" and see the transformation I will make in them. Remember, hats are hats, nowadays, when you have to buy a new one. My charges are reasonable, and you will be pleased with my work. Mike Greenwood, 224 Macdonald Ave., south side of street near Third.

Rev. Coffman raised the question whether a man could be sustained in such a career without a salary or any independent resources, with only the free gifts of a community.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SCOUTS PROVE THEIR GRIT

A "lot" at Camp Wewamassa, the summer camp of North Hudson council, Boy Scouts of America, at Bear Mountain, Interstate park, tells a bear-story which he got direct from his boy.

It was their first night on the islands. There had been sound, and the camp was settling down to a quiet slumber, when from one of the islands came a low, blood-curdling scream.

"Some cat," ventured a scout in one of the tents.

"Cat, nothing," exclaimed another in the same tent, excitedly. "It's a wildcat."

This statement brought six other youngsters from underneath six blankets in the tent. A hurried conference was called, and it was decided that they just had to go out and get the wildcat.

Arming themselves with broken oars and old broom-handles, and with their scout knives safely hitched to their belts, the boys crept stealthily from their tent into the starry night. The shriek again pierced the still night air.

Suddenly the leader called a halt. His foot touched something. It was another scout. In fact another group, and still another group. The scouts began to assemble rapidly, and it finally seemed that every tent had a delegation present. Excited whispers as to how to proceed broke the silence, but suddenly everybody grew quiet, as a tall figure loomed up in the darkness.

It was Lieut. H. Hudson of Westfield, N. J., resident director of the camp. "I've got the wildcat, fellows," he said quietly; "now hustle back to camp."

Lieutenant Hudson would advance no information, but ordered everybody back to bed. But the boys leaked out and spread from tent to tent. The truth was that the shriek was not that of a wild cat, but an ordinary boy scout imitating that animal. The wildcat was Scout George Becker of West Hopkirk.

THE SEA SCOUTS' CHANTY.

This is a modern chanty, sung by the crew of the sea scouts who took the famous pioneering trip up the Connecticut river in government boats. It was written by Chief Sea Scout James A. Miller of Honolulu:

A ship of wood and metal,
In metal, rising and sailing—
She's but an iron kettle,
When hearts aboard her fall!

Hauling Chorus:
To my way-ay and yea, yea,
We're bound away for many a day
A sea-scout is a good scout,
So give us our way-ay.

The heart of ships is red-blood,
Red-blood—new and old—
And wood and iron useless
Without the heart of scout.
(Chorus)

Our ship is what we make her,
Make her—sassy and smart.
No blustering wind shall break her,
While we are all of a heart.
(Chorus)

VICTORY HALL TO HOUSE SCOUTS

Exterior designs and floor plans have been prepared for submission to the board of estimate in New York city for "Victory Hall," a memorial building to the world war soldiers of New York city.

The plans show a ground floor, to be used as an exhibition hall, 30 feet high and 200 by 320 feet square. The basement is to contain one of the largest swimming pools in the world, a gymnasium and a rifle range.

The second floor will be a convention hall. The third story is to contain chapter rooms for the meetings of the G. A. R., A. E. F., American Legion, Boy Scouts, Public School Athletic league and Amateur Athletic union. A flat roof will afford facilities for a playground.

INNES TRAINS SCOUT BAND.

The Denver boy scouts' band of 65, directed by Frederick Nell Innes, is an organization of which Denver may well be proud. Introducing the band Professor Innes said:

"It is a genuine tribute to the high intelligence and untiring application of these boys that they, in less than 120 days, have become proficient enough to appear in a public concert, and I am sincerely proud to be their director. This band is wholly self-supporting. The members bought their own instruments. I have been glad to give my services in training them."

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN SCOUTS.

The officers and leaders present at a recent scout conference in Bournemouth, England, were enthusiastic for the development of their relations with foreign scouts.

Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell, who is at the head of the British scout movement, believes that this attitude is general, for he has had suggestions from scoutmasters and others as to what the organization might do to get into closer touch with British allies.

DISTINGUISHED VETERAN DIES AT YOUNTVILLE

Gen. John F. Sheehan, Pioneer Journalist, Pneumonia Victim

San Francisco.—General John F. Sheehan, Civil War veteran and former adjutant general of California died of pneumonia November 20 in the California Home for Disabled and Volunteer Soldiers at Yountville, of which institution he was at one time commandant. He was prominent as a newspaper writer and until recent years was active in state politics.

Sheehan's newspaper career dates back to his partnership with the late James McClatchy, founder of the Sacramento Bee, on which paper he was an editorial writer for many years. Later he became identified with the Evening Post in this city. He held various federal and state offices, including registrar of the United States Land Office in this city, and Secretary of the Yosemite Valley Commission.

About five years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and went to the Soldiers' Home at Yountville. General Sheehan had been a member of the Bohemian and Union League clubs of this city and was one of the organizers of Summer Post, G. A. R., of Sacramento. He was 75 years of age. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Addie Wallace Sheehan, of 1227 Tenth avenue, and their three children, Miss Romietta Sheehan, Peter Burnett Sheehan and Wallace Sheehan. Three sons by a former marriage are John F. Sheehan Jr., Frank Sheehan and Walter Sheehan, all residents of this city.

U. S. SOLDIERS ARE SPOILING GERMAN GIRLS. IS PROTEST

With the American Forces in Germany.—Among the civilians in the American occupied area complaints originating with the German men, are often heard to the effect that the American soldiers are "spoiling" the German girls by heaping luxuries upon them and by spending money recklessly for presents, wines and good things to eat.

Since the anti-fraternization regulation was revoked by army headquarters several weeks ago the cafes in Cologne have been crowded each night with soldiers and frauleins and many of the German men have openly asserted that the Americans were entirely too considerate of the German women and girls.

Cafes in Cologne and other towns in the zone held by United States troops have been doing lately the greatest business of their existence. One in Cologne which is conducted by two Americans who recently obtained their discharge from the army, seats 2200 persons. Yet on Sunday afternoons and evenings the crowd becomes so great, Americans and Germans all together, that on several occasions the military police had to be called to maintain order.

WOMAN IDENTIFIES PICTURES FOUND NEAR SAN RAFAEL

San Rafael.—Mrs. Minnie Park, employed at Mare Island, identified the bundle of pictures found near here as pictures she had sent her divorced husband, Jesse Park, a year ago. At that time Park was living at 701 Capp street, San Francisco. According to the story Mrs. Park told Undersheriff Frank S. Sherman, Park and her son, Jesse Jr., have been missing since July 1, and she thinks the pictures have some connection with their disappearance. Park has been committed to state hospitals twice, according to Mrs. Park, once at Napa, from which institution he escaped in June, 1918. A short time after her son, who had been in St. Vincent's Orphanage near this city, also disappeared. Mrs. Park said that her husband had threatened before their divorce that he would kill both himself and the son.

GIRLS SPREAD DISEASE BY USE OF LIP-STICK AND POWDER PUFF

San Francisco.—Girls, did you know that your powder puff is a barracks for germs? And that your lip stick is a conveyor of the deadly brats? Well they are.

Dr. William C. Hassler, San Francisco health officer, advised all women addicted to the use of cosmetics to use their own and not indulge in the fashion of borrowing their friend's red paint or powder.

Community powder puffs and lip sticks are a menace and should be avoided by buying your own, he said. Although Dr. Hassler advises that neither should be used in the interest of health, he realizes that both are considered, by woman, as necessary as the heel of her shoe.

The lip stick used by several is the greater of the two evils, according to Hassler, as it carries germs from one mouth to another.

A meeting is to be held early in December to perfect a permanent organization and apply for a national charter. A temporary committee has been named consisting of R. N. Patterson, chairman, 1095 New York avenue; R. S. Younglove, Dr. H. W. Roberts and T. A. Poole.

Pomona.—No vote on a site for school buildings at the bond election of December 11 is possible, said President Keiser at last week's meeting of the school board following the passage of the two resolutions of intention for the school election. "Although the board, according to the law, has the power to select the sites, it is our intention to call another election later and let the public express its opinion on the most logical locations."

Los Angeles.—Members of the City Council were the guests of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce at their weekly luncheon, November 19.

Pasadena.—Refusing to consider his announced desire to retire from active work with the organization, the directors of Pasadena Chapter of the American Red Cross re-elected William H. Vedder as chairman. Other officers also re-elected were: Vice-Chairman Joseph C. Sloane, Secretary Mary Wallace Webb and Treasurer J. H. Pearman.

AGED MOTHER GRIEVES FOR HER ABSENT SON

San Francisco.—John McGovern's aged mother, Mrs. Mary McGovern, 79 Sussex street, is grieving her heart out over the disappearance of her son. McGovern left home five weeks ago, telling his mother he was going to the country to find work. She has not heard from him since. He is 56 years old, of medium build, has brown hair and a small scar on one cheek. Any information concerning him will be grateful, received by his mother at 72 Sussex street.

SAN MATEO DIVORCEE GETS FIVE DAYS FOR CONTEMPT

Redwood City.—Mrs. Mariella Ann McCarthy, former president of the San Mateo Women's Club, and divorced wife of Dr. Charles F. McCarthy, a San Francisco specialist, was sentenced by Judge George H. Buck to five days in the county jail for contempt of court. The commitment, served by Deputy Sheriff H. W. Lampkin, was caused by the failure of Mrs. McCarthy to observe instructions of the court which forbade her occupancy of the McCarthy home.

EVA TANGUAY MADE OVER FOR THE MOVIES

Chicago.—If Abe Lincoln, whose homely facial lines find their only comparison in the drooping suit of homespun with which Bernard has draped his statue of the great emancipator, could but live today he might have the face of a matinee idol.

The pruning edge of the surgeon's scalpel could do for Abe what it has accomplished for Eva Tanguay, comedienne of the variety stage, for now Eva aspires to the pictures—whereby hangs this tale.

A year ago Eva made a sally into the pictures. "Punk!" declared a director when her first appearances were run on the screen. "Heavy bags under the eyes, double chin, yawning dimples which look like shellholes in No Man's Land. Fine acting, but poor mug."

"I should be perturbed," remarked Eva. "If my face doesn't suit you, I'll change it. I don't care."

Today Eva is on her way to movie-land with a new face. The puffs under the eyes which have bewitched the first ten rows many a night are gone. The chin which used to sag maternally is as rounded as an athletic schoolgirl's. The dimples are faint dents in peachy cheeks.

In a surgeon's operating room the miracle came about.

"I might marry my last ex-husband again and he couldn't tell it was me," she laughed; but added, "I'm not going to. I'm on my way to the movies. Watch me."

BOY KILLED BY AUTO AS HE LEAPS FROM STREET CAR

San Francisco.—David Navarro, the nine-year-old son of Stephen Navarro, a machinist living at 163 Mangels avenue, was instantly killed when he was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas Pruett, 1239 Plymouth avenue.

Young Navarro, the eldest of six children, was on his way to the Sunny-side school and boarded a car at Edna street and Sunnyside avenue, asking the conductor if he could ride for a short distance. According to the conductor, the lad jumped from the car while it was in motion after riding about 200 feet. Running around the rear of the car he stepped in front of the automobile driven by Pruett.

12,280,000 LIVES BOLSHIEVISM'S TOLL IN STRICKEN RUSSIA

Omsk.—The Polish professor, J. A. Ossendoffsky, chief of the Intelligence Department of the All-Russian government, estimates that the world war, Bolshievism, civil war, starvation and disease have cost Russia a total of 35,000,000 lives. He places the cost of Bolshievism at 12,280,000 lives.

Professor Ossendoffsky says that formerly the Russian population increased at the rate of 4 persons a minute. Today it is decreasing at the rate of 12 to 13 a minute.

Fire the Great Destroyer

Fire not only destroys about $300,000,000 worth of property annually in the United States, but 15,000 people are burned to death and 50,000 are injured by fire each year. Most of the victims are women and children. It is an established fact that most fires are preventable and due to the careless habits of the American people. Europe, by being careful, has an annual per capita fire loss of less than 30 cents. Ours was $2.63 last year.

More than half our fires are in homes. The majority of these occur because of defective furnaces and flues, faulty electric wiring, careless smokers, open lights, thoughtless use of electric appliances, rubbish, careless use of matches, gasoline and kerosene, and other easily avoidable causes.

Therefore the following suggestions are made:

Make sure your heating plant and appurtenances are in safe condition before starting fire for winter. Paper fire-stops court disaster. Place ashes in metal cans, never in wooden receptacles.

Examine electric wiring for worn insulation and defects in installation.

Protect open lights with globes. Clean up rubbish, especially in basements, attics and back yards, and keep clean.

Use gasoline, if you must use it, only with greatest care and never near a fire. The vapor from one gallon of gasoline has an explosive force equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

Never fill kerosene lamps while lighted. Never use kerosene to start fires.

Keep matches in metal boxes and away from children. Never discard a match until the last spark is out. Place used matches in metal receptacles. Never throw them on the floor or in waste baskets.

Oil mops and oily rags ignite from spontaneous combustion. Keep them in closed metal receptacles.

Never leave an electric iron, or other electric heating device, even for a minute, without disconnecting at the socket.

Careless smokers cause thousands of fires, costing many lives. Cigarette butts and cigar stubs should be extinguished before being discarded and care should be used in depositing pipe ashes.

Observance of these and other simple precautions will do much to reduce our fire waste. It is the duty of every person to assume a sense of personal responsibility, to prevent fires and to be careful at all times and in all places under conditions likely to cause fires.

HINTS FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

Those who have green crops such as wheat, oats, rye and barley for their fowls are fortunate. There will be times during the winter when these crops will do the fowls much good.

But where for any reason no green crops are available oats may be sprouted to provide green feed for the fowls.

A good way to do this is to get a few boxes that may be easily handled. Fill the boxes with garden loam soil and put in the barn, cellar or outhouse where there is ventilation. Moisten the soil and sow oats in these boxes. The seed may be planted very thick, as it will be best to set the box out and let the chickens have access to them as soon as the plants are an inch or more above the ground. Another sowing may then be made in the box.

In this way the fowls may have enough green food to give them a good appetite and keep them in fine health and vigor. It is a very difficult matter to keep hens in good laying condition during the winter without green food. The best way is to sow green crops. If this has not been done, then oats may be sprouted as has been suggested.

Ingredients Required for Home-Made Apple Butter

Apple butter is generally made with cider, but this can be left out if desired. Four quarts of sterilized sweet cider should be boiled down to two quarts. To this add four quarts of apples peeled and cut into small pieces. If the texture of the apples is coarse they should be boiled and put through a strainer before being added to the cider. Boil this mixture until the cider does not separate from the pulp. When two-thirds done add one pound of sugar. One-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, allspice and cloves may be added. Pour into sterilized jars and steam for five minutes.

The first elephant ever exhibited in America was shown at Philadelphia in 1796. Grown people were charged a dollar a look and children a quarter.

Wasps Are Wise and Vain; Know All About Aviation; Keen on Air Resistance

Who would be a wasp? The bees get all the credit! But our affection for bees is largely cupboard love, due to the honey they provide us with, and the wasps have virtues which few people trouble to recognize.

Wasps are wise, declares a writer in London Answers. It is doubtful whether any action in a beehive is more sagacious than the action of a wasp when he has killed a bluebottle, and is faced with the problem of carrying him home. He carefully cuts off the legs and wings, leaving the body of its victim quite compact.

Why does he do this? To save weight when flying home with the booty? Not at all. The wasp knows all about aviation, and he gets rid of the legs and wings of the bluebottle to reduce air resistance!

Wasps are strong as well as wise. They can carry a weight equaling 40 bluebottles. They are also more friendly than one imagines, rarely stinging without good cause. But they are vain, for yellow and black are their favorite colors. And, when all is said and done, they are a nuisance!

Students of Flight of Birds Give Gull Title of "Master of the Air"

A student of the flight of birds is inclined to give the title of "master of the air" to the gull, which often follows a ship at sea and lives on the scraps thrown from the galley. No other bird, he says, performs such seemingly impossible feats of flight or looks so completely at home in the air. Sometimes, by the perfect adjustment of their bodies, the gulls will poise on outstretched wings and appear to defy the laws of gravitation by remaining perfectly motionless; or, again, they may be seen moving without a single visible effort, straight against a gale of wind. Their flight is altogether different from that of the Caspian tern, which is as graceful as it is unusual. "Unlike that of any other birds, whether of sea or land," says some one who has watched the terns, "it reminds one a little of the high, apparently uncertain flight of a large-winged butterfly; and it is in perfect harmony with the idea of a being where life is spent amid wind and mist and fluctuating waves."

ENGLAND LEARNED GREAT LESSON

England learned a great lesson from the war, learned how to spend money carefully, sanely and thriftily. The English people were taught this by the bond-selling campaign.

Thrift came from the necessity of all supplies in order to make them go around. Money ceased to mean so much, when one, though he had a bushel of bank notes, wasn't allowed to spend more than a few pennies for an afternoon tea, with other meals in proportion.

The United States can profit by the experience of England, by reducing consumption, practicing thrift, utilizing for their savings Liberty Bonds, War Savings stamps and other opportunities for gilt-edge investments.

By following this plan you will have a strong influence in lowering prices and encouraging the return of normal conditions.

TO PROTECT AMERICAN MANUFACTURED DYES

In order to fully protect the infant dye industry of the United States against any incursion of German dyes, which would mean its ruin, congress will enact a joint resolution providing that the regulations against such importations, made in the trading with the enemy act, shall be continued until January 15, 1920. The senate has been so busy defending American rights in the league of nations covenant that it has not had opportunity to discuss and pass the house bill to place a high tariff on dye stuffs. This, however, it will do sometime in December. Hence the joint resolution to see that no foreign importations glut the American market in the period before the final enactment of the bill providing a tariff on dyes, of which Representative "Nick" Longworth, of Ohio, is the author.

It is stated that Governor Stephens will not be a candidate for U. S. Senator next year. The contest for senator will include three strong candidates, William A. Meserve of Los Angeles, Mayor James Rolph senatorial honors in incumbent Senator James D. Phelan and will have Kent. These three must fight for the republican nomination, and the victor in turn contest with Senator James D. Phelan in the final next November. The successful candidate will have a live competitor for San Francisco and Congressman to "go some" to win. All remember Mr. Phelan's remarkable showing six years ago.

Community service must be non-partisan and non-sectarian to be successful in making any country safe. Rotten politics is a menace the same as any pestilence, and when thoroughly renovated and disinfected, the discontent of the human race will be reduced to a minimum.

Railroad Commission Says That Charges Are Just

(Albany Argus)
City Attorney Leon Clark submitted his report Monday night on the question of water bills.

The report was a lengthy one, covering several closely typewritten pages, and stated in brief that all surcharges and meter charges were to remain as at present.

As the water company sustained by the railroad commission, water users must pay the rate, which is $1026 per year, divided into twelve payments.

As the commission has gone on record in matter of water charges, claiming that the evidence proves the charges just and equitable, it seems there is nothing to do except pay the price, and look pleasant. This was the view taken by some of the board members.

Want Higher Salary

(Albany Argus)
There was an interesting session of the city board of trustees Monday night, one of the features in the order of business coming under the head of "Communications."

The "feature" was: Marshal John and his entire corps of patrolmen, a grand total of two men (including John himself) want their salaries inflated and adjusted to the H. C. L., a la Berkeley, Richmond, etc.

John's point seemed to be well taken, and when he quoted Hiram Johnson, stating that "he had to eat," tears could be seen welling upward in the eyes of the board, which indicated that they were weakening, and that Marshal John and his force would get the "once over," even if the tax rate required a slight increase.

Spacious Garage Near Completion

(Albany Argus)
Mr. Porter is making speed with his large garage, which covers ground space 50x100; and when completed will be one of the best appointed motor vehicle hospitals in the bay district. The floor space will be a great accommodation to Contra Costans who wish to park their machines while they transact business in San Francisco. This is a feature which should prove remunerative to Mr. Porter, who is deserving of the patronage of the public.

ALBANY NOTES

The Oakland ladies' band entertained the Albany ladies' band at their practice room at the Oakland city hall Wednesday evening. They had an hour of rehearsal together, refreshments were served, and a social time enjoyed. A number of musically inclined gentlemen friends were invited. The Albany ladies expect to return the compliment in the near future.

The new Northbrae Presbyterian church is planning a concert to be given in the Marin auditorium on the eve of December 4. Mrs. Stoner of Tulare street has the affair in charge, and will make a success of the entertainment. Mrs. Stoner has a fine voice and has been heard in many of the large cities of the country.

The parent teachers association of the Marin School held a splendid meeting in the auditorium Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Wm. Colby of Berkeley spoke on the League of Nations, and the new Community Law, which was enjoyed by the large number of ladies present.

The Marin avenue Methodist church is to have an entertainment and fair in the Marin auditorium on the evening of Dec. 13th. Spend your money in a good cause and come to this Fair where Christmas gifts can be purchased.
